Hey there, Neighbor

We at The Redress Movement are excited to share with you a BUNCH of awesome updates and opportunities for you to get involved!

First off - we're incredibly excited to announce our third webinar, "Lessons From The Field: Research For Repair" happening on March 27th, at 3pm EST.

This webinar is going to focus in on research efforts across the country focused on winning Redress from groups such as: The Chicago Covenants, The Mapping Prejudices Projects, as well as a presentation about The Redress Movement's research.

In case you missed it, our Movement's research team wrote up another Policy Brief about Homeowners Associations and their role in segregation across our country.

"This brief is a study that illuminates a clear trajectory linking community associations to the creation and enforcement of former racial covenants; which indicates alarming trends that threaten to exacerbate the racial homeownership and wealth gaps through the widespread under-funding and under-regulation of community association reserves; and that highlights, like many studies before it, the need for further research and clearer data on the subject of community associations from private and public stakeholders."
