Hey there, Neighbor!

We'd like to start this newsletter off with an acknowledgement of Black August, a month dedicated to commemorating Black Resistance. Black August began in the 70s after the assassination of George Jackson - a then-imprisoned Black Panther, author, and Freedom Fighter. This month is dedicated to honoring those who have sacrificed their lives for Black liberation. To read more about Black August, please click here.

For this year's Black August, we're asking our base to donate to our movement, or other Black-led organizations across the country, and to volunteer with organizations working towards a liberated future for all.

Here's a list of organizations to get involved with:

1. The Redress Movement
2. Chicago Covenants Project
3. Resistance Mapping Project
4. Black Veterans Project
5. NAACP
6. Color of Change

In case you missed it, we're bringing a new Executive Director onboard! Cashauna joins the Redress Movement after serving as Executive Director of one of the most active fair housing advocacy groups in the country, the Louisiana Fair Housing Action Center (formerly known as the Greater New Orleans Fair Housing Action Center). Check your email for the full announcement we sent out on 8/8!

Check out our most recent publication on the National Association of Realtors & Segregation

Our in-house researcher, Bo McMillan, has published an interactive guide on the history of NAR & segregation. The guide covers zoning, redlining, racially restrictive covenants, among many other tools of segregation and how they came to fracture our nation. Be sure to read up on this one!

In addition to this guide, be sure to read Bo's most recent article published in CityLab this week about the National Association of Realtors & Chambers of Commerce!

TAKE THE PLEDGE

This summer, the Redress Movement
organizer, Jasmine Wright, helped host Richard and Leah Rothstein for their GLT stop on their Just Action book tour. The 150+ folks in attendance
received free copies of the books and were able to take next steps in action by signing up to join our local fight against covenants!

Last but not

SCAN ME

As always - thank you to those who have donated, organized alongside us, and who continue to fight for a world where your zip code no longer determines the shape of your life.

That's all from us for now... stay tuned for more updates in the future!

Onward together,
The Redress Movement
